What to Expect

Works will involve pavement rehabilitation, upgraded share use path, new and upgraded rock wall armour, sediment and erosion control, wave barriers, stormwater, new stepped access to the beach, native planting and landscaping.

This construction project will provide:

- Immediate protection for community facilities, including the Encounter Bikeway and nearby road infrastructure.
- Long-term protection for the low-lying urban area from increased flood risks due to storm surges and climate change impacts.

How this affects you

Detours will be in place for the duration of the works. Road users, cyclists and pedestrians are urged to take extra caution when workers are on site, observe signage when travelling through the area. The coastal footpath will be closed at commencement of works and will not reopen until project completion. Cyclists and pedestrians will need to use alternative footpath during this time.

Every effort will be made to reduce the impacts of construction however there may be an increase in vehicle movements along Franklin Parade and noise from construction activities.

Footpaths

The new section of footpath, closest to the Bluff, is now open to the public.
